STEVE E. BORDANO (1925-1965)

Steve E. Bordano, assistant professor in the School of General Education, came to Ferris in 1956, where he had taught Communication Skills in trade-related programs.

DR. WILLIAM C. SUNKES (1932-1965)

Dr. William C. Sunkes came to Ferris in 1962, and was assistant professor of physical pharmacy in the School of Pharmacy. He was also an advisor for Kappa Psi pharmaceutical fraternity.

KENNETH E. SPOERK (1935-1965)

Kenneth E. Spoerk came to Ferris in 1963 and served as assistant professor of bacteriology in the School of General Education. Mr. Spoerk was also an advisor to Kappa Psi Fraternity.

Both the campus and the community of Big Rapids were saddened last fall as the faculty, students, and townspeople mourned the greatest single tragedy in the school's history. The ill fated crash of a Cessna 172 Skylark plane, in an early morning fog took the lives of three Ferris faculty members.

The educators were returning from a field seminar for practicing pharmacists, in Lansing, under the sponsorship of the Michigan Pharmaceutical Association.

Not only was the loss felt in the classrooms, but also in the area of civic leadership where all three were active.

It is to the memory of these men, all devoted professionals, that the Ferriscope pays tribute.

COLLEGE LIFE

Tuition must be paid before registration is completed.

New Year Begins With Registration,

The first events facing the Ferris student back from summer vacation were a hectic registration week and the Annual Welcome Back Ox Roast.

The Ox Roast was attended by over 5,500 students. This annual event is given by the community of Big Rapids to show its appreciation to the Ferris student. W.F.R.S. Radio provided continuous programming throughout the day.

Fall registration was held in the Starr Building. It brought the usual quota of wide-eyed freshmen and upperclassmen. A smooth-working system permitted a minimum amount of frustration for the thousands on campus to register.

Brenda Orrell contemplates a trial schedule for fall quarter schedule.

Father John Najdowski gives the benediction.

Despite cold weather there was an enthusiastic turn-out.

President Spathelf and Top Taggart partake of a hearty meal.

Friday's Pep Assembly marked the official opening of one of the year's biggest weekends.

Homecoming Features

Homecoming Book is dedicated to Mr. Frank Karas.

"Salute to the United Nations" was the theme for the 37th Annual Homecoming, which opened the fall activity calendar.

Highlighted by the presentation of the Homecoming Book to Mr. Frank Karas and the introduction of the five Queen finalists, the 1965 pep assembly opened the weekend's activities.

Top Taggart Field was the site for the giant pep rally Friday night when Miss Sue Gilbert was crowned Homecoming Queen by President Victor F. Spathelf.

"Ferris 500" was held on Michigan Avenue before the start of the parade, which exhibited the floats constructed by the fraternities, sororities, and merchants of Big Rapids.

Ward and Carlisle Halls took first place in the dormitory displays for the women's and men's competition.

The climax of the 1965 Homecoming came when spectators filled Top Taggart Field to cheer on the Bulldogs in a tough game with Indiana State College of Pennsylvania.

The Student Center was transformed into a giant three-part ballroom. With three dance bands in separate rooms and a variety of music, the final glamorous touch was added to this year's most active weekend.

"Tons of enthusiasm"—Miller Hall pulls to victory.

United Nations' Theme

Pole too Greasy! — None of the husky contestants could climb to the top. Roger Bolenbaugh, representing Phi Delta Chi, was chosen the winner as the best climber.

Alumni and students packed Top Taggart Field.

Miss Sue Ellen Gilbert from Bay City is enrolled in POA as a sophomore.

Busy Day of Competition Brings

"The Leaning Tower of Pisa" encouraged peace for the United Nations. Ward Hall girls won first place in the women's division of dorm displays.

A capacity crowd supported the Ferris Bulldogs at Top Taggart Field on Saturday afternoon.

Forth Peak Efforts

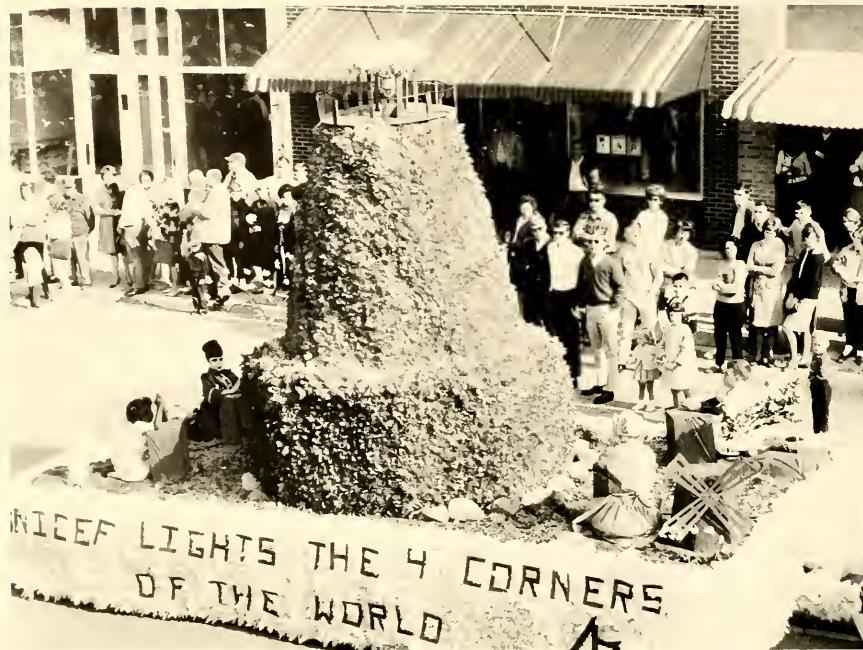

Ward Hall gets a slow start but surged forth to win the race.

"Campus queens" led rousing cheers.

Men of Carlisle Hall placed first in the men's division of dorm displays with their outstanding replica of the world.

Delta Zeta proudly displayed support for the United Nations. This attractive float won first place for the sorority.

Preparation and Participation Produce

With a precision perfected through many hours of hard practice, the FSC Marching Band gave a fine performance.

Rob Scoles works diligently helping to finish the float for Tau Kappa Epsilon.

Sherry Riggs and Beaver Smithson work on the details.

Fine Floats and Precision Marching

"Shepherds of Peace," Kappa Psi's float moves through the streets of Big Rapids toward ultimate honors as top entry in the fraternity division.

The queen candidates were; Sue Wheatley, Erika Beck, Brenda Kay Beadle. STANDING; Kerry Fansler, Bernadette LePage, Chris Maynus, and Pam Ferguson.

Sue Wheatley Chosen Sweetheart Queen

February found Kappa Psi Fraternity presenting its annual Sweetheart Ball in the Student Center.

Two bands—Peter Palmer's Orchestra and Pete Mervenne and the Kingtones provided the music in the Dome Room and the Pug for this exciting dance.

Dr. Edward P. Claus, Dean of Pharmacy, crowned Sigma Phi Epsilon's candidate Miss Sue Wheatley as queen of Sweetheart Ball rounding off the evening's entertainment.

The crowning moment to an exciting evening, as Sue Wheatley becomes a queen.

Student Body Selects Varsity Club Queen

The Student body selected Peggy Benakovich as the 1965 Varsity Club Queen. A versatile young lady who is captain of the cheerleading squad, Peggy is a student in Commerce teaching.

The Varsity Club annually sponsors the Invitational track queen and presents the queen with the silver plaque, the highest Varsity Club honor. The Varsity Club consists of members who have a varsity letter in any sport. Their goals include leadership, sportsmanship, and full campus participation by the Ferris athlete.

Linda Drury, Penny LaLone, Linda Herndon, Melissa Merville, and Diane Williams queen candidates for this year's Rose Ball.

The sixth annual Rose Ball presented by Delta Sigma Pi highlighted the winter term.

A tradition was begun this year by having each women's dormitory sponsor a candidate for the "Rose of Delta Sig" title. The highlight of the Ball was the crowning of Miss Linda Drury of Vandercook Hall as the 1966 Rose Queen.

Vandercook Hall became the first holder of the Rose Ball dormitory trophy. The queen was selected by vote of the couples attending the Ball.

The Ferris State College Rose Queen competes each year with Rose Queens from the 125 other Chapters of Delta Sigma Pi for the title of "International Rose of Delta Sig."

Exceptionally fine music was provided by the "Johnny Carryton Orchestra" in the Dome Room and the folk-singing group, "The Other Brothers Plus One" in the Public Cafeteria.

Linda Drury, representing Vandercook Hall, reigned over the Rose Ball.

Cheers Fill Year With Hope

This year's cheerleaders were Donna Castle, Theresa Poland, Sherry Lyons, Arlene Odell, Sue Gilbert, and Peggy Benakovich.

An often overlooked, but very important job is that of the cheerleader. Hard work and long practice hours are forgotten when the girls take the field and cheer on the Bulldogs.

T.I.S.O. won first place overall with their display "Chain Gang" depicting the night life of many Americans.

Winter Carnival — Weekend of Fun

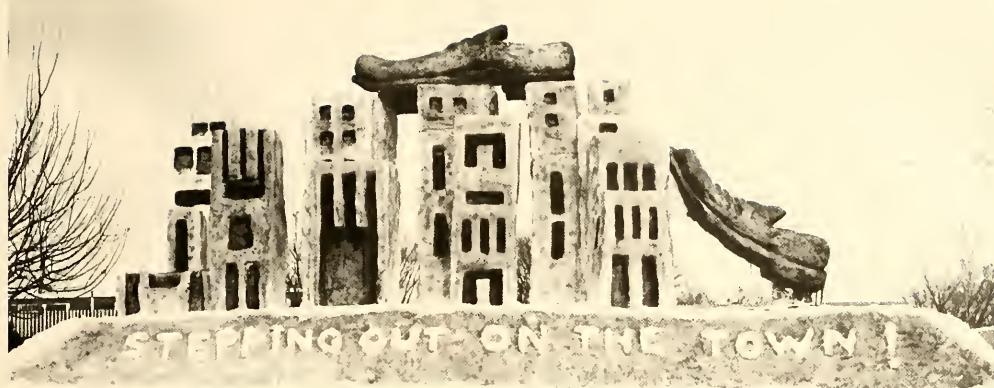

The Klondike race proved to be a test of physical condition and endurance for the team members.

"Night Life U. S. A." was the theme of Theta Xi Fraternity's Ninth Winter Carnival.

Many alumni and visitors attended the February weekend activities which started with an ice skating dance and ended with a successful Snow Swirl Ball.

Snow statues were judged during the weekend with T.I.S.O. winning the three-foot tall trophy for the best overall display.

The men of Alpha Delta Chi spent much of their night life creating this scene.

and Frostbite

Travis Hall took first among dormitory displays with this snow model of Bourbon Street.

Sigma Phi Epsilon won first place among fraternities. They have won the Fraternity division eight consecutive years.

Two sidewalk surfers await the big run.

Climaxing the social season on the "rock" were the annual South Campus Day activities. Keen competition was evident in such activities as the skateboard contest, a tug of war, baseball games, and a variety show.

The participating dorms represented each of the ten halls. First place awards were presented to Taggart and Pickell Halls.

A picnic style dinner and an outdoor dance culminated the annual event.

Through the leadership of President Victor F. Spathelf, now in his fourteenth year as chief executive, Ferris State College has grown in size, tradition, and most important in academic achievement.

A man of limitless energy, President Spathelf is constantly aware of the wants and needs of Michigan's most distinctive state college.

The life of the president is a hectic one. Planning for the future of this institution requires foresight, ingenuity, and creativity. Conferring with state officials, his staff, fighting for an equitable budget and supervising a growing physical plant are just a few of his many duties. However, with all these responsibilities, President Spathelf is never too busy to concern himself with day-to-day student problems.

LEADERSHIP

Ferris State College Graduates

Thirty-five Ferris seniors from the Commerce Trade-Technical and Pharmacy Divisions have been honored by being selected for recognition in "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges."

Each year students are nominated by this organization from approximately seven hundred and fifty colleges and universities. A student must be a four year graduating senior receiving a baccalaureate degree. The student's scholarship, his participation and leadership in academic and extracurricular activities, his citizenship and service to the school and his promise of future success are taken into consideration by the nominating committee.

The encouragement and recognition of scholarship is the primary purpose of Phi Eta Sigma and its members.

This year, as in the past, Phi Eta Sigma provided a tutorial program. Aimed primarily at helping freshman men, their services were extended to all students on a limited basis.

The Society for the Advancement of Management is a professional organization dedicated to the promotion and advancement of management.

This year's activities witnessed many major developments and firsts for S. A. M. The publication of the management newsletter LINK, the Student Manual, the expansion of membership, and the refinement of activities, were all steps in the process of a continuing organization for the years to come.

The Ferris chapter of S. A. M. joins business executives and students who are preparing for a business career.

The activities provide students with an insight into the actual practices of the management profession. They further the growth of all students by stimulating their thinking. An appreciation of the free, private, competitive enterprise system is encouraged.

Omicron Beta Kappa, a local leadership honor society for male students, was formed on the Ferris campus in the spring of 1965.

Associated Women Students

The Associated Women Students seek to create a link between new freshmen and upperclassmen. This link is brought forth through the Little-Big Sister Program. Each freshman girl is assigned an upperclassman as a big sister who acts as an orientation leader for the new student and answers any questions she might have.

At Christmas time A.W.S. sponsors the annual door decoration contests among women residents. Also there is the annual Holly Hop with the lighting of the college-community Christmas tree. Proceeds from the Holly Hop go to the Priscilla M. Watson Memorial Fund.

Another A.W.S. activity is "Smarty Party" for women students who achieve a 3.00 or better during the term.

Spring Term brings the Graduation Breakfast for all seniors. Awards are given to the senior in each division with the highest cumulative point average.

FERRISCOPE Staff Represents

Students from every major field of study combined to make possible the 1966 edition of the FERRISCOPE.

Many staff members began the year with limited experience and put forth their best efforts to make a yearbook they hope will be worthy of honor ratings in a tradition set by previous yearbooks.

Under the leadership of editor Bill Simons and technical assistance of Mr. John McNamara, adviser, the bulk of the work was finished in the Fall and Winter terms.

Bill Greenberg and Terry Howell get advice from adviser John McNamara on cropping techniques.

Pam Ferguson and Jim Zimmerman pick pictures for their section while Joan Porter types copy.

BETSY GERMAIN

News and editorial comment were provided the college community by the Torch.

Under the leadership of Editor-in-chief Walt Logan, and page editors; Bink Butterly, Beverly Burton, and Al Kirpluk, the staff worked toward more comprehensive coverage of the many areas of student life.

While working on the publication, students acquire journalistic experience along with college credit.

Because of the large increase in student enrollment each quarter, the Ferris Torch has had to expand their staff and responsibility.

This year WFRS has adopted the format of total sound. This total sound encompasses live coverage of parades, sports events, news, school activities, public service, and of course, music. The student can find everything from the latest hit to relaxing mood music, seven days a week. WFRS is an independent organization, completely self-sustaining through the sale of advertising.

With the counseling of their faculty advisors, Mr. William Buckingham and Mr. Norman Christiansen, WFRS exists exclusively for the student body. Membership is open to all students who qualify. After one term of apprenticeship, they may become regular members of the broadcasting station.

Tom Pollock and Jim Smith set up control panel for opening broadcast.

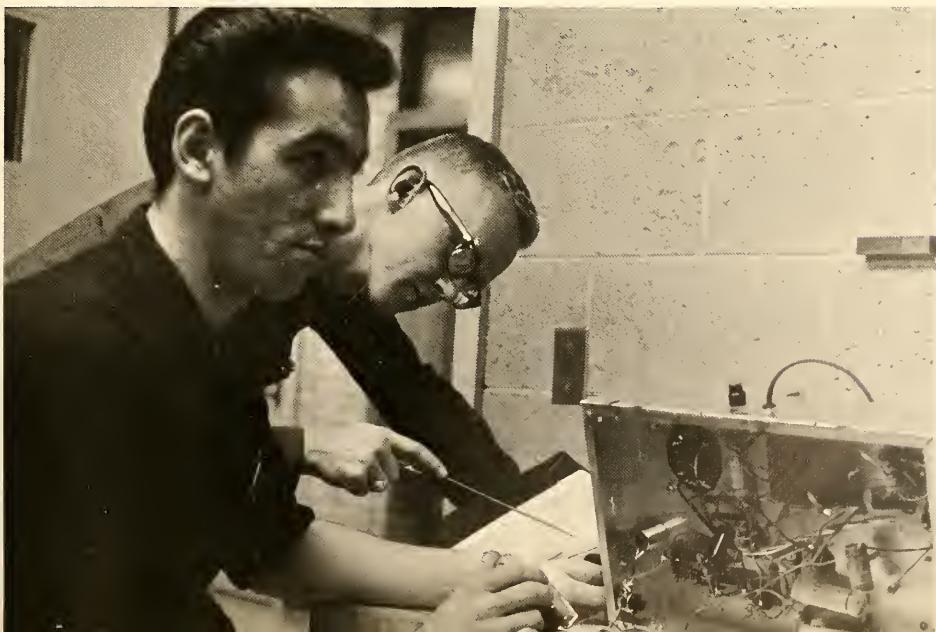

Giving total coverage of Homecoming activities, Larry Ostrow and Chris Norris broadcast from portable tower as Mark Schwartz serves as parade informer.

Student Government Leaders Seek

Dean Rankin (R) presents Student Government "Man of the Year" to Tom Ryan, 1965 editor of the Ferriscope.

This year the All-College Student Government decided to include among its major projects the continued drive to finance the Carrillon Tower. The purpose behind the tower is to establish a traditional landmark on the Ferris Campus.

As the Ferris student body expands, the role of the Student Government has expanded in importance. The Student Government seeks to reflect opinions of the students to the administration. Students were able to express their opinions through the use of a newly inaugurated monthly forum.

Their motto, "United we stand, divided we fall" is the strength which the Student Government rests upon.

ANDROCLES AND THE LION. George Bernard Shaw's witty account of Roman gladiators, early Christians, and hungry lions, was coupled with PIERRE PATHELIN, an anonymous, 15th century French farce, as the double-bill presentation offered fall quarter by the Ferris Playhouse.

This is the first Shaw to be done at Ferris in almost a decade and also the first time Roman togas, fighting gladiators and roaring lions have taken the stage.

ANDROCLES AND THE LION, is partly based on the old fable of the kindly, animal-loving, little Greek, who one day meets a lion in the forest. The lion, instead of attacking Androcles, limps up to him with out-stretched paw. Androcles removes a thorn. Later, Androcles captured by the Christian-baiting Romans, is tossed into the arena —to the lions, and meets his old friend.

PIERRE PATHELIN is the farcical story of a shyster lawyer who devised a plan to cheat a draper out of expensive material for clothes for his wife and himself. Pathelin succeeds in duping the draper, but he in turn is duped by a not-too-dumb shepherd.

Farce Coupled in Fall Playhouse

Bob Michael is defended against his miserly employer Robert Herron by Michael Koonce in Pierre Pathelin.

With the skylarking spirit of the movie, the gaiety of old England, and the charm of young love, "Tom Jones" was recreated in the winter term Ferris Playhouse presentation. This dramatization of Henry Fielding's funny and gusty tale of life in eighteenth century England was made a part of the Eighth Annual Festival of the Arts.

Young Tom Jones is a foundling who is in love with his next-door neighbor, Sophie Western. But Sophie's boisterous father has other plans for her and wishes to marry her to a man with property and money, Blifil.

Hilarious adventures take place as Tom is banished from Lord Allworthy's home and proceeds to London. Sophie and her maid, Honour, decide to follow Tom. In London Tom narrowly escapes marriage in the snare of an unscrupulous lady of fortune and then is sentenced to hang for murder. A riotous trial scene follows in which a surprise witness, Mrs. Waters, thought to be Tom Jones' real mother, provides an unexpected solution to all of Tom's problems.

Robert Herron enters the scene to describe forthcoming action in the play.

Calvinists Display Diversity

Calvinists discuss and plan their roles in life.

The Calvinist Fellowship Club is a religious organization, founded for the purpose of bringing together those students on campus who possess a Calvinistic background.

At each meeting, members discuss a portion of the Holy Bible and attempt to apply it to their daily lives.

Of the four monthly meetings, one is set aside for extracurricular activities. Bowling is the most popular activity, but roller skating and hayrides are also included. In the fall members go canoe paddling down one of Michigan's northern rivers.

Gamma Delta Initiates Campus Services

Highlight of the year began in the fall, when Gamma Delta initiated services of worship on campus. Through these services, held every Sunday morning in the Green Room of the Student Center, students experienced a greater unity and fellowship in Christ.

The Beta Phi chapter of Gamma Delta at Ferris met every Sunday evening at Luther House on Highway 131 across from Travis Hall. The members assembled, under the guidance of the vicar for a religious program involving discussions on current topics of interest.

Other meetings during the week, at the Luther House, provided students an opportunity to foster a better awareness of the principles and doctrine of the Lutheran Church.

Each year at Fort Lauderdale, Inter-Varsity members hold discussion groups on the beach and talk to students from all over the United States. Every three years students from all over the world meet for the missionary convention.

Weekend retreats and summer camps provided opportunities for students during the 1965 year to meet other members from all over Michigan.

Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship reminds the student that religion, or lack of it, affects every area of his life on campus. Believing this, thousands of students today are taking part in Inter-Varsity's campus program throughout the world.

Field Trips, Newsletter

Public health seminars, the chapter's formal meetings, form the basic organizational unit of the Michigan Association of Sanitarians. The seminars, held twice a month, provide a professional atmosphere for student development in the field of environmental health. Seminars include activities related to field work and organizational functions. One outstanding seminar was directed by representatives of the Michigan Water Resources Commission.

Representatives provided information on the scope and purpose of the commission as well as current undertakings of the different divisions. This seminar resulted in a field trip directed by the commission which allowed observation and discussion of typical public health problems.

A major product of the seminars is the "Collegiate Sanitarian." This newsletter, a monthly issue, is sent to all chapter members and alumni. Its basic objective is to stimulate the exchange of public health ideas between students and alumni.

Sixteen senior members attended the Industries New Talent Recruiting Conference in Chicago, Illinois. Not only did the program include interviews with many leading corporations but also several panel programs on such topics as "The First Year on the Job" and "How to be a Successful Creative Employee."

Ferris Dames Start

A fall tea and style show is given annually by the Ferris Dames to acquaint student wives with one another and is just one of the many activities of these women.

During the school year, Dames participated in a variety of interest groups such as bowling, knitting, physical fitness, swimming, and ceramics. They also had several major activities including King's Ball for Dames and their husbands, the Dessert Bridge, which was open to the public and a June graduation dinner dance, where all graduating Dames were issued their P.H.T. degree (putting hubby through).

The Ferris Ski Club celebrated its tenth anniversary this year with a trip to Boyne Mountain. As an active club on the Ferris campus, it also held several ski nights at Brady Hills, the annual ski meet at Caberfae, and a ski display during the Winter Snow Carnival.

Members of the club and the administration combine their efforts to make the club a real success.

I.D.C. Joins National Association of

The Inter-Dormitory Council, founded on this campus in 1959, has served as an invaluable aid in promoting good relations with the citizens of Big Rapids, and strives to build better communications and understanding between the administration and the students.

The primary purpose of I.D.C. is to provide social and cultural activities in the residence halls through the hall council. Projects sponsored by I.D.C. are College Bowl, weekend movies, Parents' Day, and they also co-sponsor many other events.

As of fall quarter 1965, the I.D.C. joined the National Association of College and University Residence Halls and is re-organizing through the formulation of a new constitution.

Henderson Has Dorm Father

Max Smith, Max Patterson and Dean Rankin dedicate new dorm on November 7.

Through perseverance and determination the men of Henderson overcame many hardships at the beginning of the year, while their dorm was being completed. These ensuing complications have produced a dorm unity second to none.

Henderson, under the direction of Mr. Allen Acker and the Dorm Council, has provided mixers, movies and cultural events.

Puterbaugh, one of the newest dorms on campus, was completed as the residents moved in this fall. With the guidance of their resident adviser, Mrs. Hall, the men of Puterbaugh displayed outstanding team effort. At the beginning of the year, they won the tug-of-war in the homecoming events. Their inter-dorm activities included a bowling league, and intramural teams in swimming, basketball and baseball.

A scholarship banquet was held honoring the 3.00 students and above for winter and spring quarter.

Group Spirit Brings Johnson Hall Distinction

Nancy Nemic, Cberyl Le Gault and Debbie Abbott study late into the night for finals.

The girls of Johnson Hall enjoy the convenience of being in the center of campus activities. Although it is one of the smaller dorms on campus, it scores high in group spirit and friendships among the girls.

With the guidance of Mrs. Powers, their resident adviser, the Johnsonians participated in Homecoming, winter carnival and the blood bank. Mrs. Powers is always helpful in discussing problems of the girls and their dorm life.

As one of the oldest residence halls on campus, Carlisle Hall continues to be a leader. Projects such as a winning Homecoming display, highest men's dorm donation to the United Fund drive, and dorm mixers united the men of Carlisle and created an atmosphere of enthusiasm.

The objectives of Carlisle are to sponsor activities aimed toward intellectual and social development and to cooperate with the administration in creating and maintaining high educational, social and ethical standards.

College consists of more than studying.

Carlisle Wins Homecoming Display

Admiring their trophies are representative, Dick Carpenter; treasurer, Nick Burns; secretary, Gary Stout; president, Ray York and resident adviser, Mrs. MacKintosh.

For this year's homecoming, the men of Hallisy entered dorm competition in the tug-of-war event, and won the overall championship.

Snow carnival brought another challenge, and Hallisy took second place in the dormitory division, with their version of a drive-in movie.

These accomplishments, along with mixers, movies, and intramural teams made Hallisy Hall a good place to live.

Competition is easily aroused among the men, when a game of bumper pool begins.

Hallisy Wins Tug-of-War

The members of the 1965-66 Hallisy dorm council are treasurer, Charles Summers; president, Gary Finni; vice-president, Dave Deans; and secretary, Steve Crook.

Helen Ferris Hall, having the largest resident capacity on campus, still maintains good inter-dorm unity.

Throughout this year the women of Helen Ferris participated in a wide range of activities, including the traditional Homecoming display, Christmas door-decorating contest, and the United Fund drive.

The comforts of home, smiling faces, all go together to make Helen Ferris a good place to live.

Participation Unites East Masselink

Jim Atkins, president, hands the men of East Masselink a trophy for their fine effort in the United Fund drive.

Supporting campus functions comes natural to the men of East Masselink Hall. This year the men received a special trophy, which was donated by Terry Kew, for their efforts in the United Fund drive. They also participated in such projects as Homecoming, Winter Carnival, blood drive and competed in the College Bowl.

Being located near the heart of the campus, East Masselink is one of the more popular dorms because it is within five minutes walking distance of all classes.

Jim Ziegler and Bill Gallagher enjoy listening to another short-wave radio enthusiast.

West Masselink, which has the best facilities for rehabilitation students on campus, also put together a football team made up of rehabilitation men. This was a first for the campus.

The men of West Masselink also participated in homecoming, the United Fund drive, Snow Carnival, and thus proved themselves to be very capable contenders.

Entertainment of all types is found in McNerney Hall.

McNerney Cops Homecoming Honor

Leading McNerney are treasurer, Steve Sesti; vice president, Donald Maser; president, James Misaros; Mrs. Irwin, resident advisor; secretary, Lindsey Henderson.

McNerney has shown enthusiasm throughout the year, and this spirit has become more pronounced through team effort.

The residents took second place in the homecoming display, became a top contender in the college bowl, entered top intramural teams, and remained active in the inter-dormitory council.

A close-knit group which worked hard to maintain an outstanding resident hall, characterized the men of McNerney.

Good cooperation and effort by the men of Merrill Hall has made it one of the more enthusiastic dorms on campus.

The residents of Merrill were top contenders in the College Bowl, entered strong intramural teams and were active in the inter-dormitory council.

Merrill Hall, under the direction of their new resident adviser, Mrs. Schied, and the Dorm Council has strong leadership in establishing itself as a major dormitory power on campus.

Miller Hall student finds solitude and quiet.

During the past year Miller Hall distinguished itself as a very unique dorm as they went through the entire year with an all frosh executive board.

Although green at first, the men of Miller organized themselves and participated in such activities as homecoming, UF drive, mixers, winter carnival, Carillion Tower Drive, and many others.

One of the highlights of the year was the purchasing of special blazers for almost half of the dorm. It is the first time anything like this has been accomplished by a Ferris residence hall.

Resident Adviser Mrs. Grace Ranta led the men of Miller with a steady hand and compatible personality: two ingredients which added up to success for Miller.

Ward Stands United

United we stand; divided we fall has been the theme of the Ward Women to carry out their outstanding achievements in capturing the honors of Queen of the Hill, Homecoming, Carillon tower fund and softball intramurals. The understanding and patience of Mrs. Kafer has helped the women to do their best.

Many social activities and academic opportunities have united the women of Ward in friendship and knowledge.

The objectives of Travis Hall are to sponsor activities aimed toward intellectual and social development and to cooperate with the administration in creating and maintaining high educational and social standards.

During their successful year, the men of Travis worked together in supporting Homecoming, the Winter Carnival and the United Fund.

Movies and the campus lecture series in their spacious lounge, offered students evening entertainment. For the first time on campus, Travis sponsored an IBM dance in conjunction with the men of Kappa Psi.

Their resident adviser, Mrs. Cannon, has provided invaluable assistance in helping the men of Travis participate in their various activities.

Vandercook Supports Parents' Day

Families received a warm welcome on Parents' Day.

Togetherness is a word that the women of Vandercook understand. Their activities are promoted to create a spirit of friendship and unity within the dorm.

Heading the list of main events for the year was the Christmas party. Planning for the Christmas spirit and participating in the door decorating contest created added friendships.

Among the other events, Vandercook supported, was Homecoming, Winter Carnival and Parents' Day.

Pickell Wins 'King of the Hill'

Jim List, Jim Goodsman, Tom Ryan and John Sohocienski enjoy a shoe shine from some of the Taggart Bunnies during United Fund Week.

In its second year, the men of Pickell Hall take pride in their dormitory. They have already made a name for themselves by winning "King of the Hill" title.

Pickell started off this fall by taking second place in the Homecoming dorm displays. Unity among the men was shown by their strong participation in intramural football, inter-dorm parties and the hayride with Taggart.

These things together with the friendly, cooperative atmosphere which prevailed in the dorm, made the men proud to say they lived in Pickell Hall.

Taggart Donates Over $1,000 to United Fund

Parties such as this are common to break the monotony of studying.

Taggart Hall led the whole campus in a record-breaking United Fund drive this year. Doing things in a big way, is the way the women of Taggart Hall work.

Along with their trophies from Homecoming and intramurals, their collection is steadily growing. Other activities within the dorm included pajama parties, coffee, open houses and inter-dorm parties.

Taggart has built a strong name for itself; a name which will be prominent on campus for years to come.

'House System' Adds Strength to Brophy

Shaving cream adds excitement to study breaks.

This past year Brophy Hall welcomed many new men, who in keeping with the dorm tradition, immediately became an integral part of the dormitory's model "house system." This was one of the reasons for the high degree of participation in intramurals, dorm bowling league and campus events.

Proof of the spirit and pride generated among the men is indicated by the many trophies now on display in the lounge. Brophy Hall has completed four successful years and again has the promise of a victorious future.

Participation in the dorm activities is discussed by secretary, Nancy Miller; president, Chris Lindhurst; vice-president, Penny VanDyke; representatives, Nancy Martin and Mary Jo Lister, and treasurer, Nancy Dermody.

Clark Holds Open House

At the dorm meeting, plans for the open house were discussed.

Clark Hall again became a women's residence in 1965 taking over from the male occupants of the previous year. This year Clark, in cooperation with Carlisle, Johnson, and Helen Ferris, sponsored the Campus Clergy lecture series as well as films for evening entertainment. The women from Clark actively supported the United Fund; this campaign brought the women closer together in spirit and unity.

A highlight of the year was the open house to "get acquainted with the women of Clark."

Campus Heights Families United

Marriage presents a world all of its own. It turns pupils into parents, students to spouses, not to mention the combination of books and babies.

It requires homes for those who are still in the process of finishing courses in their fields. Such diverse needs are accommodated by "Campus Heights".

KAPPA PSI

Integrity, scholarship, and the advancement of the pharmacy profession are the principles under which Kappa Psi was formed. Gamma Chi chapter has successfully realized these principles in its activities at Ferris. The men of Kappa Psi were the recipients of the Interfraternity Scholarship Award and the Interfraternity Council Blood Doner trophy, for the second consecutive year. Kappa Psi won the first place trophy in the float competition while placing in the log race and chariot race during this year's homecoming festivities. The Sweetheart Ball and Kampus Karnival are sponsored yearly by Kappa Psi. The Sweetheart Ball held by the fraternity in February, always features a well known band plus a smaller group.

Kappa Psi realizes its obligation to the profession of pharmacy, and is the sponsor of a professional lecture series open to all pharmacists. Active membership in the student branch of the American Pharmaceutical Association is another one of the many professional activities.

SIGMA PHI EPSILON

Sig Ep Leadership

Sigma Phi Epsilon once again has completed another great year. The effort of promoting scholarship and leadership in the chapter has brought to the men of Sigma Phi Epsilon the rating of one of the nation's top chapters. This past summer the fraternity received the Grand National Chapter Silver Cup award for outstanding chapter performance along with two other cherished awards, the Grand Chapter Scholarship Cup and the Carter Jenkins Award for outstanding contributions to the Sig Ep Journal.

An active interest in school activities is exemplified by the Sig Eps when they sponsored the 34th Annual Homecoming, with the theme "Salute to the United Nations."

The men of Sigma Phi Epsilon exhibit their leadership and scholarship abilities in many areas of school and fraternity activities. These traits were demonstrated by Thomas Ryan when winning the Ferris State College, Man of the Year award in 1965.

While winning more than its share of trophies and awards, TKE provided ample competition in all major events whether intramural or Greek-sponsored.

The Men of Tau Kappa Epsilon also sponsor Spring Concert and an annual Community Cleanup.

Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity was founded on January 10, 1899, at Illinois Wesleyan University under the principles of character, scholarship, and brotherhood. On May 6, 1962, Omega Tau Omega was installed as Theta Psi chapter of Tau Kappa Epsilon.

Lambda Chi's continued their winning ways during intramural football placing teams second and third in the overall competition. Post-season play saw the Lambda Chi I and II teams and the pledge team victorious over the corresponding teams of the men of Sigma Phi Epsilon.

Homecoming weekend added victories in the chariot race, log race, and the Ferris "500" pushcart race. Their queen candidate placed on the court and float finished second. On the academic level the brothers ended fall quarter with their highest combined grade point average.

Pikes Elect

PI KAPPA ALPHA

The improvement of interfraternity relations as well as participation in community affairs are two prime examples of the work which the brothers of Pi Kappa Alpha pride themselves.

The center of "Pike" brotherhood is at the house at 607 S. Michigan, formerly the home of Sigma Alpha Delta, which was known to the Ferris campus since 1921. Providing a home for 30 brothers it also offers an atmosphere conducive to study as well as a place to gather and relax in a "home away from home."

This year of 1965-66 has been a good year for Pi Kappa Alpha. A vigorous campaign paid off in the naming of Sue Gilbert as the 1965 homecoming queen, representing PKA. Another success, even more meaningful to the brothers was the approval by the National Office of PKA to become a chapter, fulfilling a long awaited dream.

DELTA SIGMA PHI

Delta Sigma Phi will be long remembered as the fraternity of engineered leadership. Incorporating a balanced diet of study, work, and play, "E. L." is rapidly catching on in the fraternal world, as other fraternities follow the Delt Sigs in ideals and standards.

The fraternity has also incorporated a pledge program that has been adopted by most of the fraternities on campus. Their pledging creed states that: "We pledge men, and treat them like men," is one of the most popular pledge programs on campus.

The Delt Sigs are also very active in intramural sports as well as all Greek events.

Even though they have been on campus only three full years, the image and impact of Delta Sigma Phi is respected by students, faculty, and administration here at Ferris State College.

Delt Sig's get together and start to build part of their float for the Homecoming parade. They all work together to get the job done.

THETA XI

Dedication of their chapter house on Warren Ave. during Homecoming weekend started the new school year for the men of Theta Xi Fraternity. Fall quarter saw the men of the Kappa Rho Chapter returning to defend their bowling title won the previous spring term.

Winter quarter activities revolve around the sponsoring of Winter Carnival and its Snow Swirl Dance. The intramural system of Ferris State provides the men of Theta Xi an opportunity to participate on teams in basketball, baseball, volleyball, and football.

For a Theta Xi, Scholarship is the keynote, Knowledge his brother, and Understanding the watchdog, with Brotherhood the result of them all.

Phi Delt Win

PHI DELTA CHI

Phi Delta Chi is a National Professional Pharmacy Fraternity founded November 2, 1883 on the campus of the University of Michigan. The principles and precepts of our founders are typified by the diversified nature of our yearly activities.

The "Phi Dexmen" participate in all campus activities and intramurals, as well as arranging various informative professional windows.

The characteristics of brotherhood are exemplified by the cooperation required to achieve success in all-college competition such as second place in the Snow Carnival, and a first place in Greek Sing.

Scholarship is highly regarded by Phi Delta Chi, as evidenced by their receiving the Pledge Scholarship Award for 1965 and a second place standing on campus in overall academic competition. Leadership is encouraged and displayed by the number of Phi Dexmen holding executive positions in campus organizations, such as IFC, Rho Chi, and APhA.

The successful compounding of these characteristics is demonstrated by the Larry Young Memorial Trophy; symbolic of leadership, integrity, and character of the Greek organization which Phi Delta Chi won in 1963 and 1965.

Greek Sing proves to be successful as the Phi Deltas take first place.

During fall term, an Open House for freshman women and a workshop for the Greek women were sponsored. A tea highlighted Winter term which acquainted women with each sorority. Individual and preference parties were held for the rushees. Spring term the Greek organizations participated in Greek Week. Activities included the Greek Sing and Greek Track.

Trophies were presented to the sorority with the highest scholastic record, the sorority whose pledges had the highest scholastic record, and to the outstanding Greek Women of the Year at the Annual Panhellenic Banquet.

Alpha Phi Gamma, honorary co-educational journalistic fraternity, is composed of any past or present Torch and Ferriscope member. It was founded at Ohio Northern University in 1919 and was reactivated on the Ferris campus in the spring of 1963. The purpose of Alpha Phi Gamma is "to recognize individual ability and achievement in journalistic pursuits in colleges and universities; to serve and promote the welfare of the college through journalism; to establish cordial relationship between the students and members of the profession; and to unite in a fraternal way, congenial students interested in journalism."

'Lambs' Win

LAMBDA KAPPA SIGMA

Lambda Kappa Sigma sorority (better known to all on campus as the "Lambs") is proud to report a very successful year.

Spring term, the Lambs took first place in Greek Track and won the chapter and pledge Scholarship Awards.

Fall term found the Lambs busy again, working on their homecoming float, preparing also for the annual "Mum Sale" and their annual Parents' Day.

Winter brought with it all the activities of Winter Carnival. The Lambs found themselves braving the cold weather to take part in many activities.

Many hopes and dreams will be fulfilled for the Lambs at the end of the year. The most outstanding will be the sisterhood they had brought about by working, learning, and having fun together.

The Annual Parents' Day for members of Lambda Kappa Sigma is something each sister looks forward to each year.

Alpha Xi's Combine Hard

ALPHA XI DELTA

Alpha Xi Delta's week-end dance for the new freshmen was one of the first sponsored for the 1965 school year. The girls then concentrated on Homecoming preparations and work on the float. Their efforts were successful when the float placed second in the competition and the "Alpha Xi's" skipped their way to a first place in the sorority jump rope contest at the Homecoming Pep rally.

Spring of 1965 saw the "Alpha Xi's" capturing the Greek Volleyball trophy by winning the competition for the third consecutive year.

Sorority life starts early with Homecoming and ends late in the year with Greek Week and the annual sorority picnic in the spring. Through the year the activities included a Winter Formal, intramurals, rush parties, teas with fraternities and participation in the Kampus Karnival.

DELTA ZETA

The women of Zeta Nu Chapter of Delta Zeta began the year with their annual Fall Retreat weekend, an event which gives them a chance to recall past events and plan future ones.

The festivities of homecoming were especially rewarding to the DZ's this year when their float took first place in sorority competition. Their talents were also displayed in Greek Sing last spring when they took second place with their original presentation of "Campus Blues."

Through the bonds of sisterhood the DZ's achieve a true feeling of warmth and enrichment in sharing together the ideals set forth by their founders.

Alpha Gams Emphasize

ALPHA GAMMA DELTA

Alpha Gamma Delta started out the school year with their annual Fall Fashion show. Homecoming was a flurry of activity, including their pre-homecoming dance, float, and Alumnae Tea.

The annual Tom Ryan Christmas party, presented with the men of Pi Kappa Alpha, was a success with the help of Santa Claus and the children of Big Rapids.

Winter term brought with it Snow Statue and Winter Carnival with competition among other organizations.

Alpha Gams were busy in the spring with the events of Greek Week and taking first place in Greek Sing was rewarding. Spring Formal brought many of the sisters back to renew old memories and exchange current news.

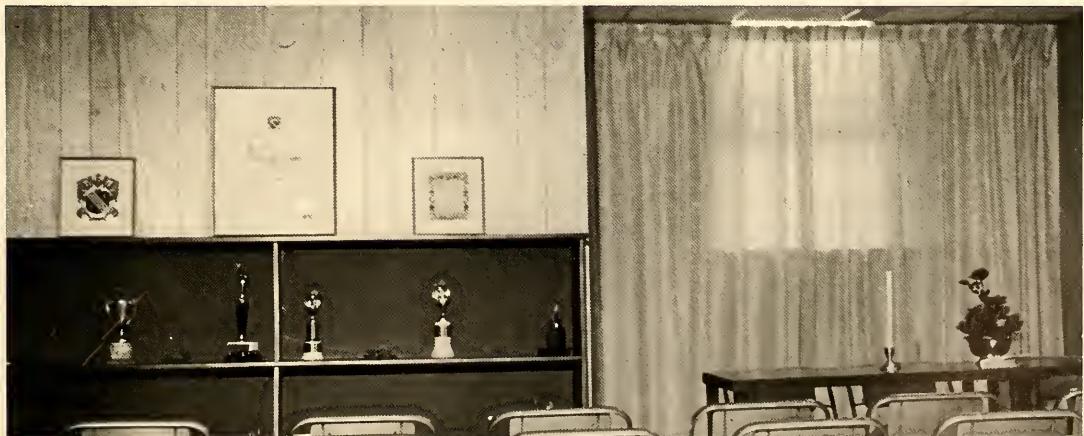

Spring term was topped off with the annual Senior Farewell Picnic for the graduating "Alpha Gams."

Despite Dismal Grid Year

Tom Keller booms a punt against Indiana State.

Faced with a tough independent schedule, the Bulldog football team experienced a frustrating season losing all eight contests.

Quarterback Don Rankin, though injured much of his first season, proved to be a bright spot for the future as he guided the team on all of their scoring drives.

Local rivalry was added to the schedule as Ferris met Central Michigan University on the gridiron for the first time in years. Playing on a snow-covered turf, the Bulldogs dropped 37-0 game to the hard-hitting Chippewas.

Rookies Provide

Although plagued with injuries, which doomed the Bulldogs to a poor season, the future is bright with many fine freshman players returning to open the 1966 season.

Some outstanding rookies—counted upon for next year were Jon Thelen, Dennis McCart, Randy Mankowski and Don Rankin.

Coach Wink's cagers fared badly this season as they could only muster a 5-14 record. Mr. Wink's first losing season in seven years was not the fault of the team's spirit. They were undermined by: lack of experience, only three lettermen returning; a team with an average height of only six feet one inch, a small team by college basketball standards; and a rough schedule; having to play teams like Northern Michigan ranked the number 1 small college team, and Central Michigan NAIA District Champion.

Independents Win I.M. Crown

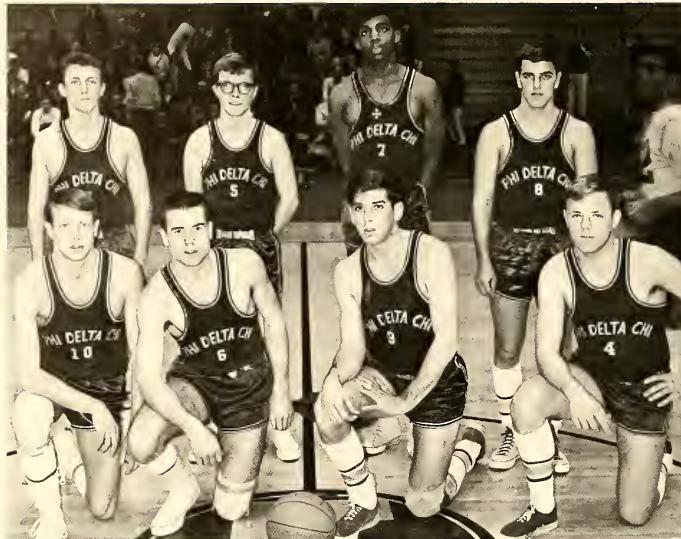

With defenders closing in, hopes for a score fade in I. M. championship game.

Evidence of the important role that intramurals play in many college students is indicated by the interest shown by independents in forming many excellent teams.

It was the independents who upset the Greek reign that has lasted almost since the start of the I.M. program.

This upset may be due to the fact that the independent teams have much more freedom in picking their team, while the Greek teams are restricted to active members and pledges. The Greeks, however, have in their ranks many athletically inclined members, which equalizes the events and causes most exciting competition.

Added excitement was given to the games by the student body who turned out in numbers to cheer their favorite team on to victory.

ACADEMICS

Progressing from a five week review course founded in 1893, taught by Senator Ferris, to a five-year program adopted in 1960, the School of Pharmacy today prepares students to enter the fields of hospital pharmacy, manufacturing pharmacy, pharmaceutical sales and product development.

Throughout the years, pharmaceutical education has undergone extensive revision as medical knowledge mushroomed with the advances made possible by research in medicine.

Keeping the School of Pharmacy's program up to date is the job of the Dean of Pharmacy, Dr. Edward Claus, who is assisted by Mr. Clark Andreson, the Assistant Dean.

Dr. Edward Claus, Dean of Pharmacy checks the supplies in the laboratory.

School of Pharmacy Offers

Sally Oliver, Don Newman, Dr. Norwood Neumann, and Judy Bergh observe the reactions of a drug-injected guinea pig during a laboratory.

Roger VanWyke, Ron Sherman, and Joan Shute study the growth and development of different plants to learn where the chemical substances are derived for modern medicine.

Jim Robinson practices the proper method of preparing capsules.

Assistant Dean Clark Andreson views the displays of pharmaceutical supplies in the model pharmacy in the Science Building.

Challenge to Determined Students

Fred Lutzke is busy typing the specific instructions on each label. Proper labeling is a very important step in preparing prescriptions.

Jim Wiita and C. Lee Bowman administer a new drug to a guinea pig during a recent experiment.

Major problems and new ideas for improving programs and curricula are discussed by Dean Turille, Dr. Lucas, Dr. Thomas, Dr. Chapman, and Dr. Elkin.

School of Commerce Provides Training

Dean of the School of Commerce, Dr. Stephen J. Turille, is well-qualified to make the important decisions for his division.

One of the three original departments of Ferris State College is the School of Commerce. Approximately one-third of the student body is enrolled in this division.

The courses of study have been reorganized, expanded, and grouped together into sharply defined degree and terminal vocational needs of the individual in a rapidly changing, complex business society.

The School of Commerce prepares accountants, secretaries, sales persons, managers of business establishments, advertisers, retailing employees, business data processing programmer, junior systems analysts, business management personnel, clerical workers, court conference reporters, and stenographers.

These programs are designed to provide the basic training in commerce and related educational subjects; to inspire the student to acquire further knowledge in his chosen field and also in general education; and to inculcate in the student, high ethical standards of conduct in his personal business, and community relationships.

Carol Hanna, a Court Reporting student, checks her steno tape during class.

for Business Students

Students observe the equipment in the Data Processing Center.

Mr. Froelich, instructor, dictates to Sharon Johnson, Carol Hanna, and Abram Sowers, all students in the Court Reporting Program.

Students in shorthand class learn to put transcription tapes on the tape recorders.

Dr. James Farrell, Dean of the School of General Education, provides the leadership for his division.

School of General Education is made up of the General Education and Pre-Professional Division, and the Specialized Education Division.

The General Education Division offers courses in both in the sciences and in the arts. Some of the courses are designed to provide intensive preparation in more limited fields. The departments within the General Education Division are: Physical Science and Mathematics, Humanities-Arts-Languages, Biological Science, and Social Science. The courses which each department offers serve students assigned to the division, as well as other collegiate students who have need for the courses.

The five departments of the Specialized Education Division include Special Business Skills, Trade Related Instruction, Tutorial and Remedial Services, the College Preparatory, and Community Adult Education programs.

School of General Education

Dr. Taylor, Dr. Peterson, and Dr. Dugas discuss problems during a department head meeting.

Dr. Merrill Murray, Assistant Dean, gives helpful information to a student.

Academic Counselor, Dr. James Colson receives pamphlet from secretary, Mrs. VanderMolen.

Develops Pattern of Growth

Planning the schedule of classes for Adult Education is one of the many jobs Mr. Peter Holub, Assistant to the Dean, performs during the quarter.

Department heads, Dr. Reitz, Dr. Levardsen, Mr. Musselman pause after a meeting to read a report.

Dr. William Day, head of the Department of Education, signs a letter being sent to a future student.

Ferris State College offers three Bachelor of Science Degree programs in Teacher Education. In final preparation, seniors spend one quarter of their final year student-teaching in junior and senior high schools in Big Rapids and neighboring communities.

Science Teacher Education prepares teachers for secondary schools. Students in this program major in biology, chemistry, or math.

Trade Technical Teacher Education is designed to prepare teachers for community colleges, technical institutes, and training departments of industry. The major areas of specialization in the Trade Technical Division are: automotive repair, machine tool, mechanical drafting, printing, and radio and television service.

Students in Commerce Teacher Education are permitted to select a major and a related minor from the areas of accounting, accounting and law, general business, marketing, and secretarial training.

Department of Education Prepares

Dr. William Day, (C) meets with his faculty (L to R) Dr. Hitch, Dr. Buethe, Dr. Van-Trump, Mr. Reeve, and Mr. Donald Day.

Dr. William Van Trump, Director of Trade-Technical Education, takes a few minutes during his busy day to give a student a warm welcome.

Dr. Robert L. Hitch, Director of Business Education, makes an appointment to see one of his advisees.

Professional Teachers

Dr. L. Chris Buethe, The Education Generalist, teaches the professional education courses.

Mr. Donald Day is a new instructor in Distributive Education classes.

Dr. Edgar Stahl, Dean of the School of Technical and Applied Arts, makes good use of the dictaphone.

School of Technical and Applied

Director of the Trade and Industrial Division, Mr. Hubert Reid, gives a few points to a student in the Radio-Television Service program.

The Trade and Industrial Division and Collegiate Technical Division merged together this year under the School of Technical and Applied Arts.

Trade and Industrial Division offers specialized training in twelve major trade-oriented areas of instruction. There are a total of seventeen different certificate levels of completion for students in vocational programs.

Students enrolled in the Collegiate Technical programs prepare for careers as technicians in medicine, dentistry, public health, engineering, chemistry, optics, art, library aid, foods, and beauty culture. Upon graduating, students are accepted into the professional and industrial fields.

Keeping abreast with the students, Assistant Dean Mrs. Arlene Hoover observes classroom instruction.

Arts Offers Vocational Training

Mr. John VanderMolen, Academic Counselor, watches a student operate a linotype in the Printing Department.

Director of the Collegiate Technical Division, Mr. Edward Sell finds a free moment to visit an Optical Technology classroom.

Library Facilities Expanding To

Targeted for a March 1967 completion date, a new library now under construction will relieve the crowded facilities used by the 6,000 Ferris students. The present library houses approximately 60,000 books and 20,000 pamphlets and periodicals, many of which are packed in boxes awaiting the move to the new building.

Accommodations for 850 students, including an informal lounge-browsing area and an independent study area with audio-visual facilities, will serve the campus when the new three-story library is completed. This compares to the present library which accommodates 312 students in its two stories. "Historical Ferris" will be featured in a special room aimed at depicting the history of the institution in the new library.

Keeping pace with the newly developed Teacher Education Department, a new collection of texts used in secondary education was added to the stacks this year.

The present staff numbers fifteen and will continue to increase along with the growth of the College. Seven members of the staff are professional librarians.

With the Vico-Matic copy machine, Donna Smith makes duplicates of some important information.

Lorey Kropa takes advantage of the quiet South Reading room to review for a coming exam.

Editorial

It's another closing of another show as the efforts of this year's FERRISCOPE staff are presented to the campus.

In these pages we hope we have accurately captured the year 1965-66 for the students of Ferris State College.

Credit is due many people for their efforts toward this book. Mr. John McNamara, adviser, was always available to answer questions and solve problems. Dean Donald Rankin and last year's editor, Tom Ryan, were especially helpful in setting the book's plan.

Many hours of both frustration and hard work were spent in the Publications office fighting the ever-present deadlines. To the staff members who experienced this, thank you.

To the graduating seniors, we hope that our efforts have provided them with a colorful record of their final year at F.S.C.

Now it's over and another staff can look forward to next year and the '67 FERRISCOPE. To them we extend the best of luck and hope that their efforts are as personally satisfying as working on this book was for us.

Thank you,

William Simons
